Restore Medical Freedom in Idaho With H574

Members of the Idaho Legislature are seeking to pass legislation that would help restore medical freedom and protect Idaho residents from medical mandates.

House Bill No. 574 (H574) is sponsored by the House Health and Welfare Committee. If enacted, it would repeal nearly all remaining vaccine mandates in Idaho, including those imposed on children, and removes certain exceptions from the already enacted Medical Freedom Act, such as the current statute's allowance of mandates for facilities that participate in Medicare or Medicaid.

By repealing vaccine mandates for children, H574 would protect parental rights. Children's health is the responsibility of their parents, not the government.

It is imperative that the Legislature enact the H574 this session.

During the Covid-19 pandemic, all levels of government blatantly disregarded the Constitution and imposed a wide range of unprecedented and totalitarian restrictions. Although these restrictions have since been lifted, it's essential that state legislators prevent such restrictions from ever being reimposed. If freedom-loving Americans are to stop the imposition of a biomedical security state, it is imperative that citizens push back, rein in these government entities, and ensure they cease to violate our constitutionally protected rights.

Urge your state representatives to pass H574 and to robustly protect all our God-given rights.
