With the Christmas Holiday season fast approaching many of you may have already started or will hopefully soon begin buying gifts for your family, friends, and loved ones. As if inflation and rising prices, especially of energy, along with uncertainty for many in Europe on how they will heat their homes, wasn't squeezing people's wallets enough, this Thanksgiving you can also thank the United Nations for announcing plans to take even more of your hard earned money to give it the UN's so-called 'loss and damage fund' that negotiators recently unveiled at the conclusion of the two-week long COP27 UN Climate Change Conference in Sharm El Sheikh, Egypt.

We'll cover some of the highlights of the conference and what we need to do next, in this episode. Please be sure to take the suggested actions. And please like, subscribe, and share this information on your social media platforms.

Taking effective action creates change!

1.) Use our handy tool to contact your legislators and help get us out of the United Nations:
