

Major Carbon Capture Pipeline Dead, Or Is It? | JBS News Analysis

Last week, Navigator CO2 announced they were pulling their request from the Iowa Utilities Board that sought a permit to install a 1,300 mile carbon capture pipeline. The news was enthusiastically embraced by the grassroots opposition. We'll look into the details of this and remind you that there are two other pipelines currently being pursued, so don't get complacent. All in today's Analysis Behind the News.

If you're concerned about American independence and freedom, then please watch and take the recommended actions. Also, be sure to like, share, and subscribe, so we can break through Big Tech censorship and reach many others.

ACTION ITEMS:

Visit our Stop the Global War on Farmers Action Project.

Watch "Twelve Steps to Preparing Your County for Dangerous Carbon-capture Pipelines".

Contact your local JBS Coordinator to explore local opportunities.

Join The John Birch Society.