Kris Jurski

Kris Jurski is an entrepreneur specializing in scaling organizations by troubleshooting security, financial, and operational issues and developing tailored solutions. His work includes creating systems to address these challenges effectively.

During the 2020 election, Kris made a startling discovery: Individuals who had sold their homes and moved out of state were still voting from their Florida residences. In response, he founded The People's Audit, a platform designed to empower Florida citizens to verify voter registrations. This initiative has since expanded to monitor millions of voters in multiple states, identifying anomalies on a monthly basis.

In September 2022, Kris was appointed to the Statewide Committee for Voter Integrity at the Florida Republican Assembly.

COMMUNISTS WINNING ELECTIONS

Despite the disasters that communism has wreaked on countries around the world, communists are getting elected in this country by promising free stuff.

By C. Mitchell Shaw

RICHMOND — Mainstream media outlets have spent the last four and a half years focused on the phantom of Russia influencing U.S. elections with the help of Donald Trump. Meanwhile, pro-Chinese communists working within and without the Democratic Party have been successfully implementing a plan to flip one state after another toward the left. The goal is to use Democratic control as a transitional stage toward communist control.

According to a co-executive director of a pro-Maoist group operating in the United States, that plan was "put in motion years ago." That co-executive director is Tran Nguyen, and her organization is New Virginia Majority (NVM). Nguyen's admission took the form of a boast in a November 6 op-ed piece for the New York Times.

Nguyen wrote that NVM has spent the past 12 years working to "reach voters of all colors, women, low-income workers and young people where they are." She added that this "has made it possible for us to develop a robust base of support along Virginia's so-called Urban Crescent, from Northern Virginia to Hampton Roads."

As to the tactic and the message, Nguyen wrote, "Long before Election Day, we registered more than 300,000 voters, knocked on more than 2.5 million doors, and organized within communities of color to help win significant policy changes like Medicaid expansion, which covered nearly 400,000 people."

So, NVM targeted minority neighborhoods (which are statistically lower-income neighborhoods) with a pitch for voter registration and an increased voter turnout tied to the promise of more money and benefits from the public till. The result was exactly what they hoped for. Those newly minted, politically uninformed voters turned out en masse and placed Virginia squarely in the clutches of the Democrats.

Of course, political activist groups are nothing new. And for a political activist group to knock on doors, register voters, andudge those new voters to vote a certain way is to be expected. What sets NVM apart from the pack is its pedigree — which includes pure-bred Maoist elements.

As the inestimable Trevor Loudon has been reporting in a series of articles published online by The Epoch Times, "NVM is a front for Liberation Road, known until April this year [2019] as Freedom Road Socialist Organization (FRSO), the United States' most influential Maoist organization."

As Loudon wrote in an article focused on NVM's success in Virginia:

NVM is led by longtime FRSO/Liberation Road cadre Jon Liss of Alexandria. Several FRSO cadres have served in NVM over the years, as have many activists from two NVM satellite groups, LeftRoots and the Virginia Student Power Network.

Going with the communists: Durham, North Carolina, voters — like those in other areas throughout the country — were swayed by pro-Chinese communists who targeted strategic areas for a leftward shift.

No matter who one thinks won the 2020 presidential election, the widespread vote fraud — such as dead people and minors voting — makes plain that new voting procedures are needed.
