

JBS Opposes the “Convention of States” Project

JBS ramps up its effort to defend the U.S. Constitution from alterations and a potential runaway convention by opposing the then-newly formed pro-Constitutional Convention (Con-Con) organization “Convention of States” (COS) Project, founded by Mark Meckler. Meckler, along with Leftist Con-Con advocate Professor Lawrence Lessig, had previously co-hosted the Constitutional Convention Conference (ConConCon) at Harvard Law School in September 2011.
