During this battle to save our Republic, we as Americans need to stay focused on what's important. This week, Art Thompson discusses two important topics; a Constitutional Convention and the idea that contacting your representative does not work. Mr. Thompson highlights those who support a Con-Con and why it is dangerous. For his second point he explains the importance of contacting your state legislators and how it can be done. Find out how you can help save the Republic for generations to come.
