

UN Wants Total Control of Education

Alex Newman, senior editor of The New American, outlines the United Nations' agenda to indoctrinate children around the world, including in the United States, with globalist ideology — in favor of greater global governance (i.e., world government) — to better provide “global solutions” to supposed “global problems,” such as the man-made climate-change hoax, which is promoted by the UN and globalist insiders. Newman also delves into the spiritual component of the UN to create a one-world religion to supplant biblical Judeo-Christian beliefs, and exposes how many key UN luminaries are devout Luciferians, who claim to be in contact with spiritual entities that are guiding them to empower the UN.
