

There is so much new technology out there, drones, small cameras, laser thermometers and more. What happens when government uses technology like this to keep an eye on you? Are they able to see if your are staying safe at home? Dr. Duke Pesta discusses how police and others are enforcing new measures that are unconstitutional.