

Conservatives are Being Duped into Destroying the Constitution

There exists a deceptive, “conservative”-led movement to open up the U.S. constitution for changes using a method that’s never been tried—by calling an Article V constitutional convention, or Con-Con. The Con-Con is being pitched as the way to save the country, and many well-meaning patriots are being duped into believing it. However, it would do the opposite of saving the country — it would destroy the Constitution, and the United States with it. In this episode, Paul and Christian Gomez, JBS’ Research Project Manager, discuss why a Con-Con is dangerous, the people behind its push, and how to stop it.

Resources & Action Items

Learn about the Con-Con danger

Elect constitutionalists and vote out un-American reps with help from the Congressional Scorecard

Read “Leftists can rig elections, they certainly can rig a constitutional convention” by the Federalist

See what Dr. Ron Paul has to say about a Con-Con

Join The John Birch Society in the battle to restore America