

Trucker Convoy Signals World is Finally Ready for Freedom

A little over a week ago, the world watched as thousands of semi-trucks and cars, many with the word “Freedom” inscribed on them, descended onto the Canadian capital to protest the country’s authoritarian vaccine mandates and other Covid-related restrictions. People all over the world have been protesting Covid despotism, indicating a worldwide freedom movement is on the precipice. In this episode, Paul discusses the opportunity that America and other countries now have to break the chains of tyranny that have been encroaching on — and strangling — us for decades, and how best to do that.
