

RENEGOTIATING NAFTA?

Renegotiation for NAFTA have begun. With the upcoming midterm elections in the U.S. and the 2018 general election in Mexico, in which a new president of Mexico will be elected, proponents are likely to push a renegotiated agreement sooner rather than later. We discuss what this means and its potential ramifications to American independence.