FOOD CRISIS COMING?

Food Shortages Coming to America? | JBS News Analysis

Many are predicting a perfect storm to occur this fall and winter that will culminate in various food crises around the globe. Those in the “global south” or developing countries are at the largest risk of starvation. Knowing that this may be coming, is it a good idea to globally attack farmers?

The answer depends on which side of the conspiratorial fence you are on. We'll look at this and offer ways we can help avoid this catastrophe in this video.
