Date: January 25, 2016

JBS CEO Art Thompson's weekly news video update for Jan. 25 - 31, 2016.

In this week's Analysis Behind the News video, JBS CEO Art Thompson addresses National Review magazine and its upcoming February 15, 2016 issue featuring the words "Against Trump" on the cover. Thompson discusses National Review's neoconservative agenda, its origins with establishment "conservative" (and CFR member) William F. Buckley, as well as Buckley and National Review's attempt to purge The John Birch Society from the conservative movement in the 1960s. Thompson encourages individuals to educate themselves about the Constitution, local government, and who's elected to Congress rather than who's running for president. For more information about Buckley's background, Thompson recommends the book "William F. Buckley, Jr.: Pied Piper for the Establishment," written by JBS President Emeritus John F. McManus.
