The LA Times reports that “nearly 10,000 [California National Guard] soldiers, many of whom served multiple combat tours, have been ordered to repay large enlistment bonuses — and slapped with interest charges, wage garnishments and tax liens if they refuse.” This disgusting practice demonstrates the low level of respect that our Executive Branch holds for the military.

If the President can free more than 70a0 criminals from drug charges, he can certainly wipe the slate clean for these soldiers who did nothing wrong. They deserve much more respect than this.

Be sure to share this with all your friends and family!
